

Photo: Dr. John Rock from Cal Poly Pomona

Integration by Rock

The Row Integration by Parts workshop presented by Dr. John Rock from Cal Poly Pomona was an interactive presentation that drew an incredible 55 students.

Integration is a mathematical process that allows you to calculate an area under a curved line. Traditionally, a single problem of this type can take up to 45 minutes to solve (this is considered fast). Dr. Rock's update to the Integration method allows students to break the problem into smaller pieces that, when combined, provide the final answer in approximately 15 minutes (taking us from fast to ludicrous fast).

Hispanic Heritage Month at Crafton

Hispanic Heritage Month kicked off on October 2nd at Crafton with an opening ceremony in the quad.

Ericka Paddock, Director of Student Life encouraged the CHC community to remember our stories and history. She said that stories about our ancestors, heritage, culture, and way of life are important. "Ours is a fierce and proud heritage," Ericka continued. Hispanic Heritage Month provided activities every Wednesday in October, including Mexican Bingo (Loteria), a Cultural Fashion Show, Salsa Dancing/Tasting and a Dia de los Muertos Lecture.

Photo: Fall 2019 exhibition in LRC Gallery

Art By Us

The Visual Arts Department hosted a Fall 2019 exhibition in the LRC Gallery from October 7th through October 25th. A call was made at the beginning of the semester for all staff & faculty who create art through photography, digital media, poetry, song, knitting, sculpture, found object art, painting, crafts, drawing, sewing, wood working, etc. to submit work for the show to share with our colleagues, friends and larger community. A reception for the artists, friends and family was held on October 9th.

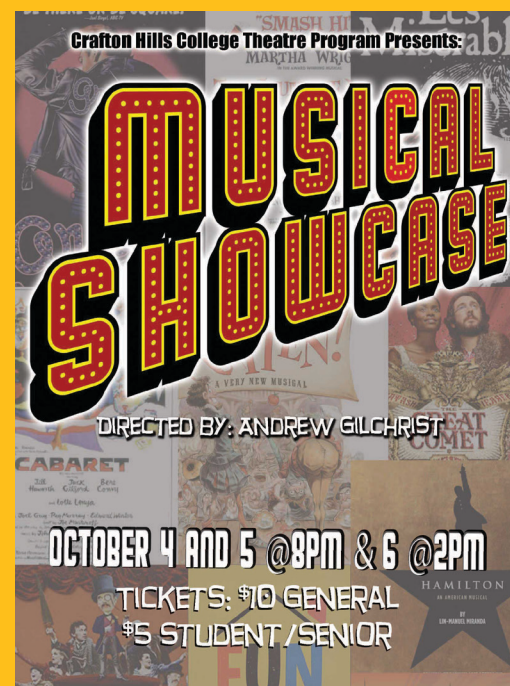

Photo: COACH Community Garden

Health Class Garden Project

Professor Ledoux's Health class spent several hours cleaning, preparing, and planting the community garden. The community garden is a part of the COACH (creating opportunities and changing hearts) project which helps alleviate food insecurity through vegetables grown in the garden, a food pantry, and food vouchers. The community garden project also offers a space for health students to learn outside through hands-on activities, connect students to the foods that they eat, and gives them the opportunity to try new vegetables.

Musical Showcase

Under the new leadership of Paul Jacques, our talented theater students wowed the crowds at the "Musical Showcase" performances on October 3rd, 4th, and 5th. Crafton students performed a variety of Broadway songs from Hamilton, Les Misérables, Grease, and more! The second fall performance will be Lysistrata in the Finkelstein Performing Arts Center on December 13th, 14th, and 15th.

Donors recognized on the Crafton Hills College Legacy Society Wall:

Visionaries | $500,000+

- Stanley Krasovec

Benefactors | $100,000 - $499,999

- Raymond Pryke
- Henry Stone & Elaine Rosen

Pacesetters | $50,000 - $99,999

- William & Gloria Harrison
- Bill & Nelda Rankin

Founders | $25,000 - $49,999

- Donald & Carol Averill
- Wayne & Doris Milloy
- Donald J. Nydam
- Diane J. Pfahler
- James & Theresa Ramos
- Jon & Laura Winningham

Scholars | $10,000 - $24,999

- Leroy & Marilyn Balch
- Paul & Joann Barich
- Bruce & Elizabeth Baron
- Jane K. Beitscher
- Nicolas Campos
- Win & Bette Carl
- Gordon & Sara Clopine
- Cheryl A. Cox
- Donna M. Ferracone
- Robert B. Martin & Mary E. Goldsboro
- Luis & Patricia Gomez
- Leon & Francine Hellerman
- Douglas C. Heller-Taylor
- Brent & Sherry Hunter
- Sam Irwin
- Nancy & Gary Kasin
- Thomas & Josie Konzem
- Steve & Rebeccah Marlatt
- Patrick & Cheryl Marshall
- Alaina Mathews
- Brandon & Julie McKee
- William & Linda Nassar
- Charlie & Tommi Ng
- Dr. Phong Nguyen
- David & Diane Raley
- Michael & Amy Strong
- Harvey Ricketts & Betty Jo Wood
- June C. Yamamoto

Crafton Hills College Foundation Unveils Legacy Society Wall

Photo: Legacy Wall Donors. Back Row (L-R): Chuck & Linda Garber, Dr. Phong Nguyen, Elaine Rosen, June Yamamoto, Wayne Milloy. Front Row (L-R): Mike Strong, Gloria Harrison, Nicolas Campos, Bill Nassar, Donna Ferracone, Don Averill, Sara Clopine, Doris Milloy, Harvey Ricketts

On Friday, October 11, 2019, a ceremony honored individuals who have made substantial gifts to support the programs and students at Crafton Hills College.

This Legacy Wall in the Crafton Center provides recognition of individuals who have given cumulative gifts, estate-planned gifts or irrevocable life-income gifts of $10,000 or more to the Crafton Hills College Foundation.

Alumnus Anthony Abate shared his journey with attendees at the event. "This wall represents the reason why many of us were able to continue working toward our goals. It also represents why many students here have realized, some for the very first time in their lives, that they are capable of succeeding regardless of their circumstance. The reason why my success story along with so many other students who have defied the odds is possible is because of the generosity and heart of all you, our donors, and the work that the Crafton Hills College Foundation does to ensure that every student has an equal opportunity," Abate said. Grateful for the assistance provided when he needed it most, Abate recently became a member of the CHC Foundation Presidents' Circle to give back and help others.

Former CHC president, Gloria Harrison, shared her personal story of education and the reason that she and her husband Bill choose to support the CHC Foundation. She explained that their own higher education experiences were possible because of the opportunities available through community colleges. She believes it is essential to give back to our community and the institutions that helped her become the woman she is today. Gloria said, "The community college was where we got our start and realized that education was a means of being more than we ever thought we could be."

Photo: CHC Students visit Olivera Street, Little Tokyo, and China Town

Sociology and Anthropology Students visit LA

Cheryl DiBartolo and Julie McKee took a group of 48 students and their friends from CHC Sociology and Anthropology classes on a journey to learn in a setting away from their normal classroom environment. On Saturday, October 5th, the group rode the train to LA where they visited Olivera Street, went to the Japanese American Museum in Little Tokyo, visited a calligraphy exhibit, had some free time to shop and wander around, and some even went to China Town. Students learned about the Japanese experience: pre-war, the internment camps and post war when many Japanese did not return to west coast but settled in the Midwest.

Pete the Cat

The Crafton Hills College Child Development Center received a special visit from Pete the Cat. A favorite book character for the children, they were delighted when Pete the Cat made his appearance on our campus Oct 28th.

CERT Training

In partnership with the City of Yucaipa office of Emergency Services, 28 people completed the Community Emergency Response Team Training at Crafton Hills College October 16th, 17th, and 18th.

There were 13 employees from Crafton and 15 members of the community who volunteered to receive 20 hours of emergency response skills training. This group learned how to help themselves, their families, their neighborhoods, and their communities prepare for, respond to and recover from disasters. Topics included basic disaster response, fire safety, search and rescue, team organization, and disaster medical operations. Professional responders can now rely on these 28 CERT graduates during disaster situations.

Photo: California Cassic held at Crafton Hills Aquatic Center

California Classic Paralympic Swim Meet

On October 26th and 27th, Crafton Hills College held the California Classic, a Paralympic event presented by the United States National Paralympic Committee. Athletes with a physical, visual or intellectual impairment are hoping to secure their spot in the 2020 Paralympics in Tokyo. One of our very own Roadrunners, Austin “Auggie” Olive qualified to compete in the US Para National Championships in Lewisville, Texas in December.

Photo: Future Roadrunners

Senior Day

Over 700 students from local high schools were on campus Friday, October 25th. The future Crafton graduating class of 2022 toured the campus, attended workshops and an orientation where they received information about the Free College Promise Program.

Upcoming Dates:

11/14	9 a.m.	San Manuel
11/15	9 a.m.	Wa'at Event LRC
11/16	9:30a.m.	3 Peaks Food Drive Family Service Association
11/20	Noon	Honor's Luncheon Crafton Hall
12/5	2-6 p.m.	Student Research Conference Crafton Hall
12/7	10 a.m.	Fire Academy 101 Graduation PSAH Engine Bay
12/13	8 p.m.	Lysistrata
12/14	8 p.m.	PAC
12/15	2 p.m.

