

ENGLISH 976 SLOs

1. Students will compose clear, purposeful sentences within the context of paragraphs and essays, relatively free of punctuation, spelling, and grammatical errors (fragments, misplaced modifiers, misused words, etc.)

2. Students will compose paragraphs and essays that focus on a single idea (thesis) supported by evidence such as examples, quotations, statistics and responses to other texts, including summary.

3. Students will organize diverse essays (i.e. reflection, research, summary, etc.) according to logical, orderly structures that support evidence and tone.

English 010 SLOs

1. Students will compose clear, purposeful sentences within the context of paragraphs and essays, relatively free of punctuation, spelling, and grammatical errors (fragments, misplaced modifiers, misused words, etc.)

2. Students will compose paragraphs and essays that focus on a single idea (thesis) supported by evidence such as examples, quotations, statistics and responses to other texts, including summary.

3. Students will organize diverse essays (i.e. reflection, research, summary, etc.) according to logical, orderly structures that support evidence and tone.

4. Students will integrate source materials using signal phrases and parenthetical references correlating with the works cited.