Some associate degrees at Crafton Hills College are designated “associate degrees for transfer” in accordance with the Student Transfer Achievement Reform Act (SB1440). An Associate’s Degree for Transfer consists of 60 semester units that are eligible for transfer to the California State University, a minimum gpa of 2.0, and include both of the following:

1. Completion of the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) or the California State University General Education-Breadth Requirements.
