Research Briefs from the Office of Institutional Research Honors Students

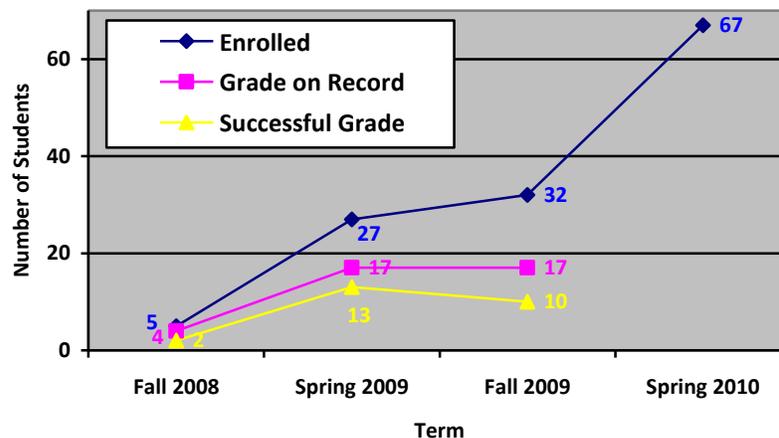

Purpose: The purpose of this brief is to examine the number of Crafton students participating in the Honors program from Fall 2008 to Spring 2010.

Methodology: Honors students were identified by identifying the courses in Datatel at Crafton that had an "H" designating the course as an Honors course. A limitation to the data presented here is that the numbers do not include students who have participated in the Honors program through individual contracts with instructors.

Findings: From Fall 2008 to Spring 2010, 209 students expressed interest in an Honors course by either enrolling and dropping a stand-alone Honors course or by enrolling in and earning a grade on record (i.e. A, B, C, D, F, NP, NC, P, CR, I, or W) in a stand-alone Honors course. In Fall 2008, Spring 2009, and Fall 2009 64 students expressed an interest in a stand-alone Honors course by enrolling in the Honors course. At the same time, 36 (56%) earned a grade on record (GOR) and 25 of the 36 (69.4%) successfully (A, B, C, or P) completed the Honors course.

In Spring 2010, as of January 7, 2010 67 students were enrolled in six Honors courses (GEOG-110H, GEOL-100H, PHIL-105H, PSYCH-100H, SPEECH-100H and 111H). Five of the 67 students currently enrolled in an Honors course were also enrolled in two Honors stand-alone courses. In total, 103 students have either completed an Honors stand-alone-course or are currently enrolled in a Spring 2010 Honors course. At the same time, there are 92 Honors students who successfully completed an Honors stand-alone course and who are currently enrolled in a Spring 2010 Honors.

The number of enrollments in Honors courses has increased from 5 in Fall 2008 to 67 in Spring 2010, a 124% increase. In addition, the number of grades on record has increased from 4 in Fall 2008 to 17 in Fall 2009, a 175% increase, and the number of successful grades has increase from 2 in Fall 2008 to 10 in Fall 2009, a 400% increase.
