Hello Everyone:

As you know, the District Strategic Planning Committee (DSPC), in response to the recommendations of the Accrediting Commission to both Crafton Hills College and San Bernardino Valley College, is developing a sound and comprehensive District Strategic Plan. This year, in accord with the Commission's requirements, the DSPC is focusing heavily on acknowledging input from and aligning with the Colleges' major plans, and guiding further planning at the Colleges. (Next year, the DSPC will refine the Plan, in part to integrate more fully the other District entities, KVCR and EDCT.) It has formulated six Strategic Directions (including the four required Board Imperatives) and 12 Strategic Goals, and now seeks feedback on those Directions and Goals from other District personnel and student leadership.

The attached document shows the Strategic Directions and Goals, along with the College goals and objectives that shaped them and align with them.

Please respond to the three questions contained in the document and follow the instructions for submitting your feedback. We will also be holding an open forum (Jackie Buus will be sending you a date for next week).

If you supervise employees who do not have regular computer access please print copies of the document for them.

Please let me know if you have any questions, require more information, or encounter problems.

Thank you in advance for your help in facilitating wider participation in the District Strategic Planning process.
