

SLO Course Assessment Rate

Methodology - The SLO Course Assessment Rate includes the following courses: courses that have been offered in the last two years and primary cross listed courses. The SLO Course Assessment Rate excludes the following types of courses from the denominator: the secondary cross listed course, honors courses, and courses with enrollments of less than 8. In addition, a course was identified as needing to be assessed if hasn't been assessed in the last two complete academic years. Also, Kinesiology assessments reported in A, B, C, or D courses were treated as occurring in all four courses. Courses that are not offered during the reporting year will be removed from the denominator.

Note: Currently, any course that hasn't been assessed in two years is defined as needing to be assessed in the reporting year. However, courses may need to be assessed more often than every two years or less often than every two years. In addition, if a course is included in the list of courses that need to be assessed and should not be included, or is not included and needs to be included, please contact Gio Sosa at x3206 or Ben Gamboa at x3355.

Use the drop down menus and table below to identify courses that have not been assessed. Courses were defined as not assessed for the current reporting year if it has been more than two years since the course has been assessed. If a course is on the list and it should not be or not on the list and it should be, please contact the Crafton Office of Institutional Effectiveness, Research, and Planning at x3206 or x3390.
