There was active participation on all parts. Cheryl remarked that the ILO presentation met with some opposition at Academic Senate. Issues such as workload and calendar were brought up The group discussed using a mapping technique to discern parallels between course-level SLO's and ILO's. ILO's will be separated into conceptual components and faculty asked to determine whether a specific course ILO has no, some, or major emphasis on a particular ILO component. Those with a major emphasis on most ILO components can be used to determine student progress on that particular ILO. The process will be piloted on Flex Day.	.Rebecca will word-process the ILO components; Keith will make the form scannable and/or online
