

History 145 California History

Learning Outcomes

1. Compare and contrast the diverse social, cultural, and geographic components in California's early (pre-Columbian to 1846) development.
2. Identify the significance of the effects of the Bear Flag Revolt, the Gold Rush and Statehood in California's history.
3. Identify and compare and contrast the significant changes in California's human and natural resource development from 1860s to 1920s.
4. Compare and contrast the diverse effects of California's image as it has evolved from the 1920s to the 21st century.

These outcomes will be evaluated through the course as the students progress through the material and will provide assessment and adjustment information for the class and individual students.
