

Sample SLOs for:

Human Services

Knowledge Base of Human Services

Students who successfully complete the course work are able to demonstrate knowledge and comprehension of common problems in living, consumer populations and helping models.

Students become familiar with service agencies and are able to identify strategies for effective delivery of Human Services.

Students are able to explain the value of participant empowerment, access appropriate supportive services, and expeditiously navigate the Human Services system.

Research Methods in Interdisciplinary Fields

Students who successfully complete the course work are able to understand basic research methods in psychology and sociology.

Students characterize the delivery and nature of Human Services as an interdisciplinary service.

The student articulates strengths and limitations of different research methods.

Critical Thinking Skills in Human Services

Students who successfully complete the course work are able to use critical and creative thinking to solve problems related to Human Services and Human Services delivery.

The student brings a depth of analysis to questions of how best to help people meet their basic needs.

Application in Human Services

Students who successfully complete the course work are able to understand and apply principles of effective helping including assessment and confidentiality.

Values in Human Services

Students who successfully complete the course work are able to analyze the ethics and delivery of helping including

Source:

Accessed on: 08/10/09

Note: These sample SLOs are provided as a model for the creation of SLOs for your own course or program. If you have questions, or would like assistance in writing SLOs, please contact Dr. Gary Williams, Instructional Assessment Specialist, at (909) 389-3567 or gwilliams@craftonhills.edu.