Since 1972, people of all ages, interests and backgrounds have utilized the outstanding educational opportunities available at Crafton Hills College. Located on over 500 acres in the rolling hills overlooking the Yucaipa Valley and surrounded by an undisturbed natural environment, the College's imaginative architecture, manicured grounds and spectacular views create a serene atmosphere for student learning. The small size of the College allows for substantive, one-on-one communication between instructors and students. As one of the 112 colleges in the California community college system, Crafton Hills College is committed to providing citizens in the region with accessible higher education and job training. The philosophy of Crafton Hills College is that all individuals should have access to educational opportunities in order to develop their unique potential. Crafton promotes an informed and engaged citizenry by providing an environment where intellectual dialogue becomes the foundation for lifelong learning. With 41 successful years, Crafton Hills College has matured gracefully. The trees reach higher into the sky, the grounds boast new flower beds and manicured shrubbery, the campus facilities have expanded, and the people who make the institution thrive continue to build on the reputation that began over four decades earlier. # Dr. Cheryl A. Marshall

Seventh President, Crafton Hills College

Appointed President of Crafton Hills College (CHC) in December 2012, Dr. Cheryl A. Marshall has long been an advocate of student success and collaborative decision-making. She served as Vice President of Instruction for five years prior to serving as President. Dr. Marshall has been an educator for more than 20 years, spending the last ten years in leadership positions. She has devoted the bulk of her professional life to the field of education because she believes it plays a major role in changing lives for the better.

Since becoming the seventh President of Crafton Hills College, Dr. Marshall has begun work with educational, community, and industry partners to strengthen the alignment of pathways from school to career. She is a member of the Inland Empire Economic Partnership's Education Council where she is contributing to a region-wide effort to address educational gaps, prepare a strong workforce, and strengthen the economy.

At Crafton Hills College, Dr. Marshall's philosophy and practice of collaborative decision-making have contributed to an open and democratic culture, and her involvement in the college's resource development efforts have helped to ensure that additional funding is available for programs services and students. She has been instrumental in securing close to $9 million in grant funding in her career.

Dr. Marshall earned her doctorate of education from the University of Southern California, her master of arts in industrial/organizational psychology from California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB), and her bachelor of science in psychology from Memphis State University (now University of Memphis). Dr. Marshall was inducted into CSUSB's College of Social and Behavioral Sciences Hall of Fame in 2013, and in 2010, she was selected as CHC's Manager of the Year.

Cheryl and her husband, Patrick, have two children, Caroline and William.

Chancellor's Welcome

Bruce Baron, SBCCD Chancellor

On behalf of the SBCCD Board of Trustees and the District managers and staff, I am so pleased to welcome Dr. Cheryl Marshall as President of Crafton Hills College. Her work during her tenure as Vice President of Instruction, interim President and now President of CHC have all supported my belief in her as an innovative, creative leader committed to student success.

Dr. Marshall is a transformational leader, one who supports the growth and development of her colleagues, co-workers and students. Her academic and professional background has prepared her to clearly communicate her vision to the faculty, staff and administrators who work with her. She is motivational, dedicated and works well with the various shareholders on her campus, the district and the community, earning her the respect of those who serve with her.

Also committed to expanding the positive role Crafton Hills College plays in the Inland Empire, Dr. Marshall is assisting with finding additional funding through grants and donor programs to improve the campus facilities and to offer new courses, programs and services to students. She is working closely with the Crafton Hills College Foundation, encouraging interested community members and CHC alumni to participate in the support of the campus in a range of roles. These interactions are vital to stimulating the life of the campus and to keeping the college relevant to the community it serves.

Crafton Hills College is a unique institution of higher learning and although it is a fairly young college, it is already well recognized for providing quality programs and services whose graduates are going on to great personal and professional accomplishments. The opportunity to lead Crafton Hills College is a position of which we know she is very proud and we congratulate Dr. Marshall on her achievement. The Board and the District administrators support her and look forward to working closely with her.

WONDERING WHAT YOUR HOME IS WORTH?

HERE'S ONE METHOD of how a Seller of a property who elected to risk not having an official, licensed property appraisal requested Joan Marie's assistance in setting a LIST PRICE. 1) Joan Marie searched the California Multiple Listing Service (CRMLS) for properties that were similar to that of the Seller; 2) Joan Marie found a "comparable sales" data sheet for the Seller's subject property; 3) The Seller set the list price at $75.63 interior square foot; 4) Skillful Negotiations: Buyer and Seller elected to waive an official appraisal of the subject property because it was a cash transaction that was not subject to a lender appraisal requisite; 5) The Seller Sold the property at $67.36 interior square foot in August, 2013. VOILA! That is the magic of how a Seller and a Buyer arrived at a mutually acceptable fair market value for a modest residential property!
