Fraud Alert!

Learn How to Protect Yourself Before It's Too Late!

CHC has been experiencing a rise in fraudulent activity. Be cautious of scam messages sent via text or email. Fraudsters often impersonate trusted sources like the college campus staff, BankMobile, or other agencies to steal personal information. Look out for red flags like urgent demands, suspicious links, or requests for sensitive information. Always verify the sender and avoid clicking unknown links. If you suspect a message is fraudulent, ask a trusted source on campus.
