

Disabled Student Programs and Services

The Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSPS) provides support services, specialized equipment and educational accommodation to students with disabilities so they can participate fully in the college experience. To qualify for support services, you must be enrolled at Crafton, have verifiable disability that limits your ability to participate in the general offerings of the college without additional services and the ability to benefit from instruction. Support services may include:

- Disability related counseling.
- Learning disability testing class.
- Test proctoring.
- Priority registration.
- Texts in alternate formats (e.g. etext, braille).
- On-campus transportation and mobility assistance.
- Specialized equipment.
- Sign language interpreters and closed captioning.
- Note takers.
- Assistive technology (e.g. screen readers).
