Access to Student Records

Once you are accepted into Crafton Hills College, all your student records become property of the College and you, regardless of your age. Student records are managed in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), which means that no information will be shared with anyone other than you without your written permission. In no case will information be released or discussed by telephone.

Your attendance and performance in any class are private matters between you and your instructor only. It's important to note that parents do not have access to their children's records, regardless of age, without a signed release from the student, as mandated by Education Code 40961.

If you want to learn more about FERPA and your privacy rights, please visit <https://studentprivacy.ed.gov/faq/what-ferpa>

We are committed to protecting your privacy and providing a safe and secure environment for your academic pursuits. If you have any questions or concerns regarding your student records or privacy, please do not hesitate to contact the Admissions & Records Office for assistance.
