

Classified Senate Logo Finalists

Votes

10 out of 23 (44%)

Comments

- too busy it may be too difficult to put on fliers and take too much space on the page.
- I like how the CHC logo is within the design. The birds are cool.
- The birds in this logo don't look like roadrunners. Would have liked to have seen a logo that includes the roadrunner.
- Looks open and easy to read. Also shows how CS is directly supporting (literally) CHC
- I like this, however shouldn't it be a roadrunner....
- This design would look better on the t-shirt. The other's the sleeve.
- Too much happening. Doesn't give the feel of a logo.
- Too big. Maybe if the birds and "Classified Senate" were smaller? For example, make "CLASSIFIED SENATE" a smaller font, with all letters the same size, and the smaller birds could go under that or over the mountains on top?
- Easy to read. Simple. Doesn't look too "busy." My favorite.
- Easy to read, obviously closely resembles college's logo.
- Perfect
- This ones for the birds.
- I st
- also like!
- Too large. don't like the birds. maybe one Roadrunner underneath Classified Senate.

Votes

8 out of 23 (35%)

Comments

- Looks dated, but its my second choice
- Really cool and professional, but the mountain space is too big.
- This logo reminds me of the logo for Arizona. Much more professional looking. This was my choice. Can you include a roadrunner?
- It looks really nice and it might be the best but I think the mountains takes most of the focus and the overall appearance looks average and not unique
- Too much green mountain
- This looks very professional.
- this is my choice
- Looks official. I like it.
- Looks dated, like it should be on a PeeChee folder, but at least it includes name of college and is more colorful
- Love it. Selected a different design as my favorite but this is a very close second. Would be nice if the text on top was stretched just a little less.
- My 2nd favorite
- Too similar to everywhere else in California.
- I think the mountain range needs some contour lines to really express our morning view as we come to work. To much void in the green space. (you can really tell which one I want)
- 2nd
- Nice!